

Frontend Developer

We are looking for a flexible talented developer who is happy to get stuck in on many exciting HTML/Js projects that will appear over time.

This will be an opportunity to use your Angular or React skills while working in the games industry and be responsible for developing our player portals.

It will also include developing example games you invent to showcase new features in our API.

A passion for video games, cryptocurrency and a positive 'can-do' attitude is essential.

This role will suit a talented creative developer who has an attention for detail.

Key Skills

JavaScript

Angular JS

HTML5

CSS3

Responsive web development with reference work

Understanding of restful API design

Github experience preferred but not essential.

Games and Cryptocurrency interest a must, experience in either is beneficial not essential.